Sámi Siida - Márkanbáiki

Sámi Siida is a reconstructed Sámi camp on the old Sámi market and assembly place Márkanbáiki that is origin for the village of Jukkasjärvi. Grazing reindeer, exhibitions about Sámi culture and livelihoods are found here. Sámi slow food lunch is served by the fire in a giant lávvu-tent; and genuine Sámi handicraft is available for purchase.

Sámi camp with reindeer

A Sámi camp is a temporary housing and workplace where one or more Sámi reindeer herding families tend to spend parts of the year. At Sámi Siida, which is a reconstructed Sámi camp, you learn about our history and traditions as a nomadic people. We will show you how we lived in the past and how we live today. Sámi Siida is an experience for young and old, where you can gain an insight into the life of one of the world's indigenous people - the Sámi people. You can also meet our companions, the reindeer, and have the opportunity to get them really close in our corral. We will tell you about the reindeer, how they live, what they eat, and talk about the myths and magic that surround them. A slide show on contemporary reindeer herding is shown and you can try throwing the lasso at reindeer antlers.

Sámi cuisine in Café Sápmi

Inside the on-site's giant lávvu-tent you can settle down, enjoy the open fire and savour traditional Sápmi slow food lunch prepared over the open flames. Reindeer meat and fish are essential parts of Sámi cuisine that is about pure taste, quality and care for animals and nature. We claim to serve the world's best suovas, i.e. traditionally lightly-salted, cold-smoked reindeer meat cut in slices. Drinking a cup of hot boiled coffee will be the icing on the cake. We serve lunch between 11.30 and 15.00; and refreshments, coffee and cakes the whole day.

Sámi handicraft shop

Inside the wooden building is a crafts section and shop where you can see our traditional craftsmanship, largely using materials like reindeer antler and reindeer leather. There is a range of traditional and modern Sámi arts and crafts and souvenirs available for purchase.
