Reindeer Lodge

Stay amidst nature and with a Sámi touch outside Jukkasjärvi village. Choose between a cosy forest cabin (stohpu) and a comfortable Sámi tent (goahti), or why not one night in each? Nestled in the woods and on the banks of river Torne, this small-scale and snug accommodation facility with plenty of space offers an ideal base for your Swedish Lapland getaway.

During the period from late April to late autumn, we have no reindeer grazing at the lodge, but instead a free ticket to the Márkanbáiki Museum is included, where you can meet and feed some reindeer during summer and autumn.

Stohpu – Forest cabin (5)

Make a cosy cabin a resting place during your holidays. Our five wooden cabins in Sámi design are inspired by the reindeer herder cabins that used within reindeer husbandry. Each cabin is like a large room of 20 m<sup>2</sup> which is equipped with a double bed (1.60 x 2.00 m), wood-burning stove, electrical heaters, refrigerator, chairs and a table. Four out of five cabins are also furnished with a sofa bed (1.60 x 1.80 m) that can accommodate another adult and a child, alt. two children. The cabin is decorated with elements and designs from nature and the Sámi culture and a great accommodation in the woods.

WC, single-sex shower and changing rooms, wood-fired, mixed sauna and breakfast room/guest kitchen are in separate common facilities located a few meters from the cabins. There is access to common barbecue area too. Breakfast is served in the morning for a good start to the day.

Goahti – Modern Sámi tent (2)

Move into a comfortable Sámi tent for a couple of days with adventurous touch to get a sense of reindeer herding lifestyle, albeit in a slightly arranged and pleasant way. Here we combine the best of glamping and the nomadic Sámi lifestyle in our two goahti tents. Each goahti is a tent room of 20 m<sup>2</sup> which is characterised by its conical shape that is created by the circular floor area and the one-meter-high insulated outer walls which are topped with long wooden poles that form the roof's framework. A high-quality tent canvas that withstands wind, rain and snow encases the roof's framework and thus creates a real close-to-nature experience.

The goahti tent is also raised a bit above the ground and has insulated wooden floor. It is furnished with a double bed (1.40 m x 2.00 m), wood-burning stove, modern oil stove, chairs and a table, as well as a sofa bed (1.20 m x 1.80 m) that can accommodate another adult and a child, alt two children. A small sanitary room with combustion toilet and wash hand basin is built into the goahti tent for comfort reasons. There is access to refrigerator. The interior of the goahti tent features Sámi design and natural materials. Candle lights enhance the lovely cosiness in this special type of lodging even more.

WC, single-sex shower and changing rooms, wood-fired, mixed sauna and breakfast room/guest kitchen are in separate common facilities located a few meters from the tents. There is access to common barbecue area too. Breakfast is served in the morning for a good start to the day.

See & do

Make the most out of your stay by exploring the surroundings during a forest walk, by swimming in the nearby creek or berry picking. Enjoy the silence and take a relaxing sauna bath. Gather around the common barbecue site to eat your own cooked meal and to engage in conversations with other guests in an unbent atmosphere. In the summer it is bright day and night and in autumn when the nights get darker there is a chance to see the northern lights.

In Jukkasjärvi village you can visit the church, Icehotel 365 and the open-air museum Márkanbáiki. Do not miss dropping by Café Sápmi if you want to taste smoked reindeer meat and have a good coffee.
